Dirty Pretty Things, Gin And Milk

Im in to myself On uncertain terms I put gin in my milk To kill all the germs As I pray for the day That life will return And I pray for myself But I never learn No I never learn See I really like you But Im nothing like you I try oh so hard But dont get so far You get my respect But we dont connect Were in it together So III love you forever I love you forever And so it rains on No one gives a fuck about the values I would die for Not the faceless civil servants The rudimentary crack whore No one gives two fucks about the values I would kill for Give them something to die for Give me something to die for You wont really see me I live in old movies Cloaked tightly in sin So they wont come in

Its like spying on cities
Through cracks in the floor
Thought I knew what the blag was
But now Im not sure
What do I know anymore?

And no one gives a fuck
About the values I would die for
Not the baseist civil servant
The rudimentary crack whore
And no one gives two fucks
About the values I could kill for
Give them something to die for
Give me something to die for

Still Im into myself On uncertain terms. I put gin in my milk It kills all the germs As I pray for the day That life will return And I pray for myself But I never learn No Ill never learn

No one gives a fuck
About the values I would die for
Not the faceless civil servant
A rudimentary crack whore
No one gives two fucks
About the values I would kill for
Give me something to die for
Give me something to die for

No ones too perturbed About the things that I would cry for Ive been trying all my life Until theres nothing left to try for No ones too perturbed About the things that I would live for Give me something to try for Give me something to try for
