

Dizmas, Party Of Noise

Noise makers signal the party that silence has won
One love, one way, you're singing a song of pain

When God whispers your name
You say goodbye or welcome home

As far as I can see I'm missing, I'm missing the words you say

Die trying! You're leaving in vain, you're quiet again
I'm lost in my sins,
I need to escape...Save me!

Can you save me?
Now what good is a faith
when you live in silence?
And your works reveal hate,
can you still claim you're safe?
