

Dobenbeck, Please, don't go

Here I go
Tumbling around to regret
Just trying to forget
Dont you know
Days they fall into my mind
I guess Ill be shy
Im only trying to remember
Whatever we choose to forget
I am longing for your touch
Please dont go
Keep your heart close to mine if you are
Like were never apart
Watching you
I reminded of us back in time
Like the moment we shared
And the things that we did
When the curtains had fallen
Our names are apart when you fell into my arms
Please dont go
So I fall
Into the deepest (book?)
Searching a clue like a (wall?)
Tore my feelings apart
Right there from the start
Im only trying to remember
Whatever we choose to forget
Theres a need inside me
Please dont go
Keep your heart close to mine if you are
Like were never apart
Watching you
I reminded of us back in time
Like the moment we shared
And the things that we did
When the curtain had fallen
Our names are apart when you fell into my arms
I hear the endless sound
[...] back in time.
Please dont go
Please dont go
Keep your heart close to mine if you are
Like we never part
Watching you
I reminded of us back in time
Like the moment we shared
