

Dogstar, Everything Turns Around

You're a dream but I'm not dreaming
This is real all too real
Days I spend when I'm not dreaming
Make me feel how I don't wanna feel
Then I drift away and you arrive – comin to me now
All my days feel the same but at night you call my name
And everything turns around
The morning hits rude awakening
Now you're gone so far gone
What's it take what can I take
To bring you back to touch your back
If I fall asleep will you arrive by my side
All my days feel the same but at night you call my name
And everything turns around
Everything turns around when you come around
