Dogstar, Goodbye

in an unforgiving way he took twenty years away what was he thinking of that day? didn't live to see just how you are today goodbye surprise - He stole your pride there's so much for you up here where the air is blue and clear and the city down below is full of fear thought I knew you as a child but you kept it all inside and you hid it all so well sidn't notice you were living in a hell

goodbye surprise - He stole your pride there's so much for you up here where the air is blue and clear and the city down below if full of fear take my hand and come inside the moment's dead but your spirit's alive everything I see in you I need in an unforgiving way didn't live to see just how you were today goodbye surprise - He stole your pride