

Dogwood, Confusion Zero

I can't explain it
You can't contain it
Hope it takes you quick
Tried on your own
Your future's alone
Why can't you see the mess you're in

The story is old
The ending is bleak
Your body is strong
And your mind is so weak

You think that you'll last
I give you a week
Although this is sad
Your problem's not unique

The choice now is yours
We set it before
How much do you have to lose?
They've got you by the neck
Your life now in check
It's too late to turn back now

Just another stat, just another name
Just another face and another shamed
They heard you cry but nobody came
Tell me who's to blame?

Something that's out there is tearing my soul
I tried to defeat it, it swallowed me whole

Now I can tell you that something is wrong
You won't believe 'til you follow along
You'll find yourself when you truly believe
Open your eyes and let your heart receive
