

Dolls Stage, Sorry (Is All I Can Say) yeah, it cuts deep inside when it's over and the look on your face tells it all you were always the one that was waiting now i'm stuck with my back to the wall yeah, i promised you goldrings and roses and to do you in devils disguise but you thought you were holding an angel' now the truth lies right in front of your eyes

would you run if i ask you to stay would you cry if i said that i missed you Sorry is all I can say ooohh

girl, i done you no good as a lover i'm still haunted by old memories and if the road that i take lead me nowhere then maybe that's where I wanna be girl, I promised you goldrings and roses I gave to you all but my heart I looked in the eyes of an angel

And now I don't know where to start

So

Sorry is all I can say
Sorry is all I can say

Would you run baby
