

Dolly Parton, I Know You By Heart

(G. Merrill/S. Rubicam/D. Pitchford)

Everybody wants to find a love
Somebody, somebody who will always care
We get locked up in our own worlds
With feelings and secrets we're afraid to share

But all I have to do is see you smile
And maybe, just maybe if I brush your hand
Something happens I cannot explain
And somehow, oh somehow I can understand

I, I think you're gonna find
Gonna find you
Gonna find you
I'm reading your mind

I know you by heart
And you're so much a part of me
I know you by heart, yes I do
It's no wonder I can love you the way that I do
I can finish any sentence you start
I know you, I know you by heart

I know everytime you're gonna call
I pick up the phone before it ever rings
And when you need some lovin' I'll be there
Beside you anticipating everything

Oh it's like I always said
You're the one I want
All I want is you
I'm inside your head

I know you by heart
Girl, you're so much a part of me
I know you by heart, yes I do
It's no wonder I can love you the way that I do
I can finish any sentence you start
I know you, I know you by heart

It's no wonder I can love you the way that I do
I can finish any sentence you start
I know you, I know you by heart

I know you by heart
And you're so much a part of me
I know you by heart, I know you, I know you, I know you
It's no wonder I can love you the way that I do
I can finish any sentence you start
I know you, I know you by
