Dolores Keane, Caledonia

i dont know if you can see the changes that have come over me and these past few days i've been afraid that i might drift away i've been telling old stories, singing songs that make me think about where i come from and thats the reason why i seem so far away today

well i have moved and i've kept on moving proved the points that i needed proving i've lost the friends that i needed losing found others on the way i have kissed the fellas and left them sighing stolen dreams yes theres no denying i've travelled hard sometimes with conscience flying somewhere with the wind

now i'm sitting here before the fire the empty room a forest choir the flames have cooled dont get any higher they've withered now they're gone and i'm steady thinking my way is clear and i know what i will do tomorrow the hands have shaken the kisses flowed and i will dissappear
