Dominik Dudek (Redford), Follow You

I see you at the open gate I look out the window at your face Dogs run around and wait ,cause their best friend came eight hours seems like eight years even longer, but we talked all day you just made a tiny smile and the house came back to life

I'll follow you wherever you go Wherever you are, there is my home So maybe we could buy a boat And look at the sunset until we get old

Doesn't matter what we've been through Coming home means coming to you I'll follow you wherever you go ,Cause you are my forever home

I wanna be a weirdo with you Sing at night and break the rules Roll the dice and buy a flight Reach the mountains by your side Together just live a life Drink it slowly like a glass of wine Oh damn it, I lost my mind With you I feel alive

I'll follow you wherever you go Wherever you are, there is my home so maybe we could buy a boat and look at the sunset until we get old doesn't matter what we've been through Coming home means coming to you I'll follow you wherever you go cause you are my forever home

I have always been lost, but I found my home It has pretty eyes and warmth, so I fell in love

I'll follow you wherever you go Wherever you are, there is my home so maybe we could buy a boat and look at the sunset until we get old doesn't matter what we've been through Coming home means coming to you I'll follow you wherever you go cause you are my forever home
