

Don Gibson, I'll Let My Heart Break For A Little While

I'LL LET MY HEART BREAK FOR A LITTLE WHILE (Don Gibson)

I'll let my heart break for a little while
Who cares if it aches for a little while
I'll hold you so close for a little while
And then I'll go my way and forget
I know that it's wrong I shouldn't do this to you
I know that it's wrong I shouldn't make you blue
But I'll let my heart break for a little while
Then I'll go my way and forget
Honey I'll let my heart break for a little while
And who cares if it aches for just a little while
And I'll hold you oh so close for a little while
And then I'll go I'll go my way and forget
Oh I know that it's wrong...
About you
