

Don Gibson, I Wish It Had Been A Dream

We were alone last night pretending wrong is right
Time flew by it seemed I wish it had been a dream
You said those words again we were so close again
But it's easier to awake from a dream and cry than to walk away and say goodbye
(To count the years since we've met so long our lips have been sealed
But nothing can make us forget when we kissed and how it made us feel)
I was afraid last night until you held me tight
But it's easier to awake from a dream and try than to walk away and say goodbye
To count the years...
I wish it had been a dream
