

Don Henley, Drive with your eyes closed

I met a Frenchman in a field last night He was out there with an easel, painting carnival light He said