

Don't Look Down, Stages Of Dying

Something has got to happen
In a state of disbelief so often
I can't sleep, can't seem to focus
This love so pure it almost broke us

And I lie awake alone without you
On this night that never ends

What have we been waiting for
This to break down
Two hearts found in our hands
What have we been dying for
This to break down
Is it all inside my head

Awake, but barely breathing
Eyes closed, my heart is barely beating
And I can feel this pressure building
Seems like it's the only thing I'm feeling

And I lie awake alone without you
On this night that never ends

What have we been waiting for
This to break down
Two hearts found in our hands
What have we been dying for
This to break down
Is it all inside my head

We can overcome this weakness [x2]

What have we been waiting for
This to break down
Two hearts found in our hands
What have we been dying for
This to break down
Is it all inside my head
