

Don't Look Down, Take A Bow

Take a bow

Your time is up and I'm glad to watch you go

What all you've done is run your mouth about how it was back then

But the scene's alive and I won't let it fade away

Just because you turned your back on what we had

You turned your back on me

On the times we've had and the lines we sang

The x's on your hands are faded as your heart

You don't care about anything anymore

You let me down

It's all on you to show this world what you're really made of

This day is gone and my respect is lost

But this life is far from over

I'm still holding on

Showing the world just what I love

No one cares for what's expected of me

No ideals that threaten me

These beliefs are burned inside my heart

I'm here until the end

I love my life, and I love my friends

These beliefs are inside of me

You can't take that away from me.
