

Don't Look Down, Undone

Finding out you were wrong was the hardest thing you've done, try to understand this, everything's undone, your thinking that you know me, well think again, you've broken every promise, break me till the end

Trying hard to explain never comes out right, need you out of my head, need out of sight, now it's time to move on,
you can't complain, push aside these feelings break through all the pain you've caused,

ALL I wanna say GIVE IT UP, tell you one last time, got to learn to crawl before you walk all over me

Cant take another moment, my back is finally broke, stepping out and over your thin line, the seams are frayed and open, thank God it's finally over, my heart is screaming (hoping) one last time give it up
