

Donell Jones, Guilty By Suspicion

I see that you're leaving after giving you everything in the world.
Like a brand new Benz, a laced out Crib, a pocket full of doe and your baby got milk.

Girl why you tripping, cuz I stayed out late that night, but I locked my keys in my car after getting off work didn't think to call.

(Chorus)

If innocent is my case, then why can't you trust in me, you don't wanna know where I've been, the answers to your questions could be the end. Oh I'm guilty for loving you, and thats all I've got to prove, you don't wanna know where I've been. The answer to your questions could be the end.

So you think I've been cheating yeah, even though we've been through this type of shit before, but I told you then that I changed my ways baby believe me cause I'm not guilty, don't let this tear us apart, cause I don't wanna lose you no. Girl I promise you it won't happen again you can trust in me just don't let this end.

(Chorus)

If innocent is my case, then why don't you trust in me. You don't wanna know where I've been. The answer to your questions could be the end. Oh I'm guilty for loving you, and thats all I've got to prove, you don't wanna know where I've been. The answer to your questions could be the end.

(Bridge)

Guilty for loving you, thats all I've got to prove baby girl I'm innocent, guilty for trying to change baby don walk away. Girl I'm innocent. Guilty for loving you, and thats all I've got to prove, baby girl I'm innocent, guilty for trying to change, baby don't walk away, oh I'm innocent.

Chorus
