

Donna Summer, Any Way At All

We never know where the winds of love will carry
our hearts unfold
into the hands of time
nothing will ever change this love we share
no matter what it takes
I will be there

When the sun goes high
you pray for
clouds to break
Reach up to the sky
and pray for it to rain
when the times get hard you rely on
your faith
will be together
if there's any way at all
it there's any way at all

don't be afraid
cause we're in
this love together
will ride the waves
'til we reach the other side
your love is life to me none can compare
no matter what it takes
I will be there

When the sun goes high
you pray
clouds to break

If there's any way
at all
we'll be together baby
we'll be together forever and ever

Reach up to the sky
you rely on
your faith
will be together

If there's any way at all...
