

Donnie Iris, You're Holding My Heart In Your Hands

You're holding my heart in your hands
And my heart's begun to dance
So I pray your feelings are true
For there is much that I could lose
I must go on soul control
Close my eyes and trust this road
But where it's going I do not understand
You're holding my heart in your hands

I am afraid of it
I am trembling
I never heard it beating
I wish you'd fly with it
I know you're able
Take me on a rocket flight tonight

With my heart in your hands
I'm on fire, I'm hot as ash
For you I'll take this chance
You're holding my heart in your hands

I sometimes lay
In the twilight
Aching for your touch
Now I don't mean to
But I need you
And baby, I'm missing you so much

You're holding my heart in your hands
And my heart's begun to dance
So I pray your feelings are true
For there is much that I could lose
I must go on soul control
Close my eyes and trust this road
But where it's going I do not understand
You're holding my heart in your hands