

Donots, Good-Bye Routine (Live)

This heart is barely beating
The air is getting thin
Do you know what i mean?
A change is due
For something new
This portrait of a fracture
This x-ray of a big mistake, that's me and you
And you know it, too

Good-bye routine
It's time to leave

I guess i miss a stranger
A friend i've never had Someone i've never met
It's odd but true
Well, how about you?
Throw out the road maps
Let's go home to a place we've never been before
There's gotta be much, much, much more

Good-bye routine
Pack your bags, let's leave
Good-bye routine
Burn the props, rewrite the scene

(Whoo-hooo, yeah)
Just can't fight the feeling
We're choking on the air that we're breathing
And my mind is reeling
Forget about the mess that we're leaving
Good-bye routine
Change the lives we're leading
Kiss me now, we'll call it even
Just can't fight the feeling
We're choking on the air that we're breathing
And my mind is reeling
Forget about the mess that we're leaving
Good-bye routine
Just can't fight the feeling
We're choking on the air that we're breathing
And my mind is reeling
Forget about the mess that we're leaving
