Donots, My Stereo's A Liar

My stereo's a liar Those mix-tapes are cheap alibis But sometimes I believe that "everything is gonna be alright" My stereo's a monster Cause it almost killed me last night It slowly crept upon me when singing those sweet lullabies

Take me away Blow me away Take me away Come and make my day, yeah (My stereo's a liar)

My stereo's a liar Those mix-tape songs are blatant lies I'll never quite believe that "everything is gonna be just fine" My stereo's a killer A love song stabbed me from behind I'll die again tomorrow With another song on running through my mind (Go - Go!) That's alright with me! (Go - Go!) That's alright with me - baby!

It's true I love my stereo It gets me high when I feel low I am in love with my stereo It saves my life with a 1 - 2 - 3 - go! (So amplify the good times)
