

Doomsday Refreshment Committee, I Only Bleed

The wind blows cold outside
And the darkness can not hide
And sorrow is my only friend

And I can't believe you're gone
And I'll try my best to move on
But, my heart belongs to you...

To you...

It all seems so surreal
And I try my best to feel
So numb for all the pain

Can you hear my heart break
How much more can I take
I miss your hand in mine

And I sit here all alone
In this cold and empty home
I need you here with me

And since you've gone away
I miss you every day
And the tears they fall like the rain

I wish that you were here
To wipe away all my tears
To hold me close at night
And never leave my side
I look up to the sky
And I watch the angels cry
See me bleeding out inside
And I only bleed for you

And I sit here all alone
In this cold and empty home
I need you here with me

And since you've gone away
I miss you every day
And the tears they fall like the rain

And I bleed....

I wish that you were here
To wipe away all my tears
To hold me close at night
And never leave my side
I look up to the sky
And I watch the angels cry
See me bleeding out inside
And I only bleed for you
