

Doomshine, Valiant Child Of War warrior, hold on and mind the call way too many of you simple-hearted angels will fall soldier boy, are you dreaming bout your love while the sirens are screaming ? swollen eyes, red with weeping tired of pain as you long for returning whining child, are you crying ? you believe that you`re ready for dying memories of her desire fade away like roses in fire prayers to the Lord don`t pay nothing in this war the storm inside your destiny blows your soul so cold and sore warrior, your sword`s of rusty steel fallen warrior, before defeat you kneel weary warrior, your armour shines away valiant child of war, shine on another day just one day

my steel, my power, so strong to smash thy towers the brave will rejoice, fall without any choice I kill for glory, I spill the blood, pray for me renounce, surrender, set my spirit free fight eye to eye, guess who`s the enemy the battle of the innocent the war of unknown men
