

Dopamine, Beauty Tree

Today i found a picture of when we were the same
It only serves to remind me it's best if you don't stay
I felt a sadness for you everyday
I tries to drive away the fear
And i'm constructive but i don't feel constructive today
Its like we are not looking in the same picture anymore

On the inside, who's the one that won't let go?
And the reasons that you gave...
We all feel like changing but you can't change the page without understanding the words
Its funny how it all works out, yesterday just turned to mud
So don't call me

Why are you still watching me, soon you'll be with beauty tree where differences are deeper than i knew
I found it dangerous to look back in the past, cos i know what it can do

On the inside, who's the one that won't let go?
And the reasons that you gave...
We all feel like changing but you can't change the page without understanding the words
Its funny how it all works out, yesterday just turned to mud
So don't call me.....i don't care about your beauty tree
