

Dopamine, Broken

Woke up in pieces, afraid of what i'd find
I won't be beaten, 'cos the scars i wear are just another reason why this systems breaking down around us
And i won't leave this pedestal even though i'm bleeding still i'm waiting for release

Someone said that i'd back down but i will not be held here
If i could choose i'd have broken out by now

It's easy to say what goes on when your not there
When all you needed was the truth
Needless to say it remains the same as it was nothing left to lose and it's over now,
'cos i'm sick and tired of waiting

If i could choose i'd have broken out by now
