

Dope stars inc, Technologic Age

In a different world id know what is really right to do.
To keep far away all the shit that is fucking up my mood.
Pushing down my throath the solution for my brain abuse.
In a dirty world where emotions got a price for you.
Technologic age spreading trough my veins.
Chemical galore of fake emotions and despair.
Technologic age. digital cocaine.
Have you ever wondered to find evil right in a pill.
Everytime i hope to forget what i am and what ive been.
But its fucking late to come back to the times i felt for real.
Pushing down my throath a shit load of synthesized pills.
In a greedy world where you have to pay to joy and feel.
