

Dopewalka, Me Dreamt

me feel left and lonely becau'me can't find my peace, there is one chance left only to heal dis inna disease, me dreamt me could burn dem down but de time has come to face reality...
me feel stranded at dis place, straight to nowhere me go, think profound and displace some thoughts before dem can grow, becau' dem disturb your balance and dem biting your natural humanity...

ya straight to nowhere me go...

some faults dem seem right and the question is the answer, some call dem dream might even if the lies seem proper, but why the steam's tight so you cannot discover, the meaning of life, just a fool like all the other,

me feel left and lonely becau'me can't find my peace,
there is one chance left only to heal dis inna disease,
me feel stranded at dis place, straight to nowhere me go,
think profound and displace some thoughts before dem can grow,
becau' dem disturb your balance and dem biting your natural humanity...

de badman dem get rightouss but all fire became ice, all bad seems good and hell now seems just like a paradise, pain is healing your head, silence drowns in your ears, you can see de bright light while de darkness appears, your fears seem absurd and your tears full of dirt, de qualitys loose dem worth, destiny seemy like it's cursed, your thirst seems to kill you, always want to be the first, so many things to fulfill, whole a dem do reverse, de bondage turns to freedom, rightousness becomes bad, useless things seem required, important's what you got,
not a lot but enough to look through disya plot, now dem try fi let you think it's false, believe me it's not

me feel left and lonely becau'me can't find my peace, there is one chance left only to heal dis inna disease,
me dreamt me could burn dem down but de time has come to face reality...
me feel stranded at dis place, straight to nowhere me go,
think profound and displace some thoughts before dem can grow, becau' dem disturb your balance and dem biting your natural humanity...
