

Dottie West, It Just Takes Practice

I'll get over you before too long just wait and see
And I won't need you any more than you'll need me
You just can't be that important my life can't be over yet
For I know it just takes practice to forget
They say practice makes perfect so I'll just practice every day
My hurt is big but not so big that I can't make it go away
Someday I'll stop remembering although I haven't yet
For I know it just takes practice to forget
