

Dottie West, Your Sweet Love

Your love your love your sweet love your love your love your sweet love

If I were a queen and could have everything

My greatest treasure would be your sweet love (your sweet love)

Stars shine bright but stars can't fall this love shines brigheter than them all

Oh how can I bear greatest treasure somewhere

The treasure of your love your sweet love (your sweet love)
