

Doug Stone, I Never Knew Love

I never knew the power of a song until I heard the music playing the day mama passed on never knew what innocence was about til the first time I laid eyes on the face of a new-born child chorus

I never knew love
no, I mean real love
I never knew that kind of love til this moment with you

I never understood the meaning of home til I pulled into that old dirt drive after being gone too long I didn't know what serenity really was til I stopped one day to listen to that river gently run

chorus

and I never knew love
no, I mean real love
I never knew that kind of love

i've known the hunger before tonight for other love I felt the yearning I felt the fire, in their touch this goes deeper than any thing i've ever known beyond my heart, clear down to my soul

I never knew what beauty could behold til you looked at me and I could see forever unfold oh you made me whole

chorus

I never knew love
no I mean real love
I never knew that kind of love

til I was loved by you
