

Dougie MacLean, Restless Fool

Oh restless fool can't you wait a minute longer?
Oh restless fool can't you wait until your stronger?
For there's things that you don't know about harvesting the field
There's things that you don't know
And without a little time they never will be revealed.

Oh restless fool don't leave them all behind you.
Oh restless fool you'll disappear they'll never find you.
For there's things that you don't know of how the lady likes to dance.
There's things that you don't know
And without a little help you may never find the chance.

Oh restless fool you don't hear a word I'm saying.
Oh restless fool you can leave but I am staying.
For there's things that you don't know about this wild illusive dream
There's things that you don't know
And its certain sure nothing is the way it seems.
