

Dover, Die For Rock & Roll

How could I know it would rain Need someone to blame Sorry for those who paid to see me play

And there'll be no starlight again (Will) you call me today?
Your only job was to keep me awake

Everybody danced
I was laying on the floor
I was ready to die for Rock & Roll
Had another chance
just the night before
I was ready to die for Rock & Roll

How could I know you'd be late You're perfect to blame Sorry her majesty lost all her hair and there'll be no crying again (Will) you call me today?
Your only job was to keep me awake

Everybody danced
I was laying on the floor
I was ready to die for Rock & Roll
Had another chance
just the night before
I was ready to die for Rock & Roll

Give me your hand
Leave me alone
I got a new friend and everybody knows Hating your face
Was that too much?
I swear I'll make you anyone

Everybody danced
I was laying on the floor
had another chance
just the night before
I was ready to die for Rock & Roll
