

Down By Law, Bright Green Globe

kids are burning up now they got nowhere to go in a spinning world of people such a bright green globe where all the wise men have something wise to say well it's a fishbowl world of troubles so wade in today
nobody knows at all
nobody knows it all
and I think i've tried it all except the things I won't try
except the things I won't try staring at a sitcom your braincells
melt away
walk into a bookstore and see rush limbaugh's face and maybe i'm stupid but I believe in heaven too but who's paying the full ticket prices?
It sure as fuck ain't you
nobody knows at all
nobody knows it all
and I think i've tried it all
except the things I won't try except the the things I won't try there's a road map in my head there's a highway in my mind but do you have a road map that everyone can follow?