

Down By Law, Firey Shade Of Blue gonna head on out of town on a greyhound bus tonight you can say that it's a retreat but i'm not fighting broken tatoood heart like words and promises and i've seen just too many wrongs for righting bitterfree -- the road that lies ahead two blue eyes, focused rage dear god i'm seeing red

i'm free
free of you
free to choose
you can say it's alright life's just a roll of dice you can say that it's just a game but i'm not playing and friends I once believed seem so distant now to me and I don't even know which way i'm facing
there's been up that we've been through but i've had too much bitter fruit
i'm free
color me a shade of blue can you see me pull away from you?
now I haven't got a hope
wondering if that bridge is far behind me
