

Down By Law, True Believers you're looking at kids saying its all junk looking at me just another punk but we're not gonna take it from you no more you say its all stupid, wasting our time never saw the reason never heard the rhyme well we're not gonna take it from you no more and you could not believe all the things we told you you went out and fell for all the lies they sold you 65 punks on the street tonight moods pretty heavy - there's gonna be a fight cause they're not gonna take it - no not no more policeman come and chase us away but we'll be back with more to say!

Cause we're not gonna take it from them anymore no cause we're not gonna take it from them no more
we could not believe how fast they sold you waking up feeling like shit I don't mind no not one bit coz i'm not gonna take it from you anymore and you would not believe
you went out and fell for all the lies they sold you true believers stand true today they don't give a damn what people say cause they're no gonna take it no not no more
