

Down Low, So Long Goodbye (Single Version)

Uh, yeah, cmon, memories of time running thru my mind
So long goodbye
Aha, can you hear me? Cmon

Many nights, I lay alone in my bed, looking back on the letter she wrote, I just read
I cant forget the moments and times I have of you, If youre save, Dear Lord, to my loneliness rules
Shall I pick up the phone and just dial? Or maybe shall I think it over, for a while?
The pain is so deep everytime when I sleep and I record it all when I weep
But now we stay distant from one another, new people in our lives that we claim as lovers
Touching her really dont quite feel the same, If you ever been in love once feelings never change
I hope one day she realises and see she could have it all if shed stay with me
Some nights I wish I wouldnt break down and cry, but live must take its course
So long goodbye

So long goodbye, I cant stay
I dont want to go away
So long goodbye, dont you cry
Cry

Can you understand that the way that I feel or life tearing us apart for real
I wish I could playback time, but she got her life and I got mine
Before I have to go and before I die, its a struggle to live to keep my dreams alive
But one day I swear Im gonna reach my goal and just to be on top, whitout selling my soul
And maybe then we can work this out, and maybe then we can talk it out
And maybe then youll understand what Im talking about

So long goodbye, I cant stay (Uh, yeah, cmon, memories of time running thru my mind)
So long goodbye, dont you cry
(can you hear me?)
Cry

I cant stay, so Ill go, so Ill go

So long goodbye, I cant stay
I dont want to go away
So long goodbye, dont you cry
Cry

So long goodbye
