

Downhere, All At War

I'm learning to stand the more that I fall down It's the law of inversion, and it's all turned around And I'm staggered
by the clash inside my soul So purposed for good but inclined for evil

It's justice and mercy,
the old dichotomies
All along the front lines of my heart
in both doubt and belief
The sinner and saint,
the old arch enemies
All at war in me

I was born depraved
but created for the divine With death in my bones, in my heart eternal life I'd love for Eden,
but I'd kill for Rome I'm native in a land that is not my home

You are the beginning, and You are the end
Into your great reversal,
I am born again
A beautiful redemption,
You leverage even sin
In me your final victory,
I know You'll win

Into light, from the shadows Into life, from the grave
Into love, into love
