Dr. Hook, That Didn't Hurt Too Bad

(R. Byrne/T. Brasfield)

Come on over here my brand new baby You look so alone and the night's so fine Won't you take your trembling lips and kiss me one more time Yeah, you're gonna do just fine

Oh that didn't hurt too bad, now did it That shouldn't make you sad 'Cause it's only love you're running from That didn't hurt too bad now did it

I'm gonna handle you like a baby I'm gonna love you like you never knew It'll be everything and more than you ever thought it could You're gonna be so good

Wasn't it everything and more than you ever thought it could be Baby you were so good

Oh that didn't hurt too bad, now did it That shouldn't make you sad 'Cause it's only love you're running from That didn't hurt too bad now did it
