

DRAG ME OUT, I'm Sorry

i see in your eyes
it's all been gone
no matter what we've lost it's running dry
you're fading way too fast the truth you can't deny you see it in my eyes

what can you say?
no matter how it ends are you ok?
I am swimming way too deep I guess it's done

can you see?
can you see?

I didn't lose my patience laying on your shelf what happened to your touch?
I barely feel myself
if you still hear me
'you' is all I need cause I am so lonely I am falling leaf

what do you know about the way I feel?
it's rumored to the core I guess it's real man, we're just bulletproof we're made of steel

I guess when you gave up I found a way cause thi si how it is blood through my veins did you ever found a place to hide from their eyes?

when that black cloud of anxiety keeps you a lonely company and it drowns you in your dreams and it tears you at your fuckng seams just look at me
it's such a shame it took the end to set me free
