

Dragonforce, Heartbreak Armageddon

Highway of emptiness outside the burning wall,
Rise again, this quest for our salvation!
Running faster, the savage laughter, the daylight fades away
Nothing left but the life we left behind

Ever searching the hidden faces, the hatred boils inside,
Broken down by the fire we left destroyed.

Light years away, empty words between us
So turn away, say goodbye for the last time tonight!
Still lost within the loneliness a lifetime ago,
Hanging on, as we pass through the fields.
These pieces of our lives will lead the long journey home
And the wounds never heal!

So, fly for the last time, and the fire burns within,
Silently, we stand, in a long forgotten wasteland!
Rise through the lost ages, hope they will bring
Free forever more, and the dream will never die!

Devastation, the lost connection, the beatdown man returns,
So confused and alone for one more time
Crushed, defeated, the force surrounding

The free stay trapped inside,
System down, feel the raging war tonight!

Time after time, promises of freedom!
We'll leave the past behind and strike for the first time tonight!
Still mystified by lack of privation they show, after all of the times we've been through
These memories and empty words were all lost in vain,
And the scars never heal!

So, fly for the last time, and the fire burns within,
Silently, we stand, in a long forgotten wasteland!
Rise through the lost ages, hope they will bring
Free forever more, and the dream will never die!

Fly for the last time, and the fire burns within,
Silently, we stand, in a long forgotten wasteland!
Rise through the lost ages, hope they will bring
Free forever more, and the dream will never die!

Fly for the last time, and the fire burns within,
Silently, we stand, in a long forgotten wasteland!
Rise through the lost ages, hope they will bring
Free forever more, and the dream will never die!

Woah, and the dream will never die!
