

Dragonland, Cassiopeia

Beautiful queen of the waters
Borne by celestial mother
Sublime astrological divinity

Punished for vain intervention
She sacrificed godlike ascension
Stripped of olympian serenety

Solar rays will carry me far away from here
Take me to my journey's end

Hear a goddess cry
A silent hopeless sigh
From a sanctum divine!

From the stars she still whispers
Envied among all her sisters
Entwined in a kingdom of infinity

The tears of an astral descension
Derived from her moonlit dimension
A star that is fading to obscurity

Soon my wings will carry me far away from home
Take me to my final rest

Hear a goddess cry
A silent hopeless sigh
From a sanctum divine!

Hear a goddess cry
When astral angels die
In a sanctum divine
