Dragonland, Cassiopeia

Beautiful queen of the waters Borne by celestial mother Sublime astrological divinity

Punished for vain intervention She sacrificed godlike ascension Stripped of olympian serenety

Solar rays will carry me far away from here Take me to my journey's end

Hear a goddess cry A silent hopeless sigh From a sanctum divine!

From the stars she still whispers Envied among all her sisters Entwined in a kingdom of infinity

The tears of an astral descension Derived from her moonlit dimension A star that is fading to obscurity

Soon my wings will carry me far away from home Take me to my final rest

Hear a goddess cry A silent hopeless sigh From a sanctum divine!

Hear a goddess cry When astral angels die In a sanctum divine
