

Dream Street, Worthless(Greg)

I woke up today with a revelation
An introduction to the truth
And I know the world is round and What goes up comes down and Maybe I, finally got it figured out

A moment is worthless
no meaning, purpose
Every breath is just wasted
If you were not the center of my world
I'm just drifting, barely existing Cuz evert minute without you is worthless
Without you it's worthless

And you know the start of my condition
Yet you hold me anyway
And I won't take a step,
unless it's your direction
Where was I, Before I finally realized

A moment is worthless
no meaning, purpose
Every breath is just wasted
If you were not the center of my world
I'm just drifting, barely existing
Cuz evert minute without you is worthless
Without you it's worthless

Theres a void, theres a space and your inches away
There's a tone in your voice and it makes me feel brave Theres a glow in my eye's that shows I'm alive

A moment is worthless
no meaning, purpose
Every breath is just wasted
If you were not the center of my world
I'm just drifting, barely existing
Cuz evert minute without you is worthless
Without you it's worthless

Cuz I revole around you I can't live another day, without you every step of the way
without you it's worthless
