

Dream Theater, These Walls

This is so hard for me
To find the words to say
My thoughts are standing still

Captive inside of me
All emotions starts to hide
And nothing is getting through

Watch me
Fading
I'm losing
All my instincts
Falling into darkness

Tear down these walls for me
Stop me from going under
You are not the only one who knows
I'm holding back

It's not too late for me
To keep from sinking further
I'm trying to find my way out
Tear down these walls for me now

So much uncertainty
I don't like this feeling
I'm sinking like a stone

Each time I try to speak
There's a voice I'm hearing
And it changes everything

Watch me
Crawl from
The wreckage
Of my silence
Conversation
Failing

Tear down these walls for me
Stop me from going under
You are not the only one who knows
I'm holding back
It's not too late for me
To keep from sinking further
I'm trying to find my way out
Tear down these walls

Everytime you choose to turn away
Is it worth the price you pay
Is there someone who will wait for you
One more time
One more time

Watch me
I'm losing
All my instincts

Tear down these walls for me
Stop me from going under
I'm holding back

It's not too late for me

Tear down these walls for me
