Dream Theater, Through Her Eyes (Radio Edit)

She never really had a chance
On that fateful moonlit night
Sacrificed without a fight
A victim of her circumstance

Now that I've become aware And I've exposed this tragedy A sadness grows inside of me It all seems so unfair

I'm learning all about my life By looking through her eyes

Just beyond the churchyard gates Where the grass is overgrown I saw the writing on her stone I felt like I would suffocate

In loving memory of our child So innocent, eyes open wide I felt so empty as I cried Like part of me had died

I'm learning all about my life By looking through her eyes

And as her image Wandered through my head I wept just like a baby As I lay awake in bed

And I know what it's like To lose someone you love And this felt just the same

She wasn't given any choice Desperation stole her voice I've been given so much more in life I've got a son, I've got a wife

I had to suffer one last time
To grieve for her and say goodbye
Relive the anguish of my past
To find out who I was at last

The door has opened wide I'm turning with the tide Looking through her eyes
