

Dreamtale, Take What The Heavens Create

Step Outside

Let us ride

Without peering to the storm

You've been out of place and time

Since the day when you were born

You're forced into the wheel

The souless wheel you cannot seal

Now let me be the one to guide you

Far from that light

To lie in happiness is sin wasting what you have and what you could

Now the storms coming

Well, let's go face the rain.

(Chorus)

Just let it now

I'm gonna be here

I've got the answers

Nothing to fear

I can take what the heavens create

I've got my own beliefs I don't need yours

I'm gonna stay the course

Let's sing

and pray

In the name of the storm

It's all the same

In the name of the kingdom

where you and I were born

Suddenly the clouds appear

The color's shades are green

Bolts of lightning right beside me

And everythings so real

(Chorus x2)

I'm gonna stay the course
