

Dredg, On Again, Off Again

I knew it wouldn't help me
But I went and did it anyways
I knew it couldn't save me
But I needed the comfort it gave me

On again off again
It seems like a waste of time
I fell again but again
It's led to a tough struggle of mine
Its a battle now

On again off again
These are the wounds I wear
On again off again
These are the scars I bear

I knew it would pick at me
But you can't empty what's gone away
Talking with the angels in our minds
Use the rest that wouldn't shine

On again off again
It seems like a waste of time
I fell again but again
It's led to a tough struggle of mine
Its a battle now

On again off again
These are the wounds I wear
On again off again
These are the scars I bear

Polish these rusted angels
I've waited for some time now
Feels like I'm stuck this way
Waiting for some time now

The soul has turned to greed
The journey to wind out pure
I cannot escape this
Throw me the rescue rope cure
It's all better now

On again off again
These are the wounds I wear
On again off again
These are the scars I bear
