Drist, Carrion Baggage

I've got the feeling I'm still in motion The feeling I got no control, f**k it, you'll never feel Come and try it out, take a piece of this full strength Watch me tear it down just the moment your heart breaks In two

Why's it every time I think I'm drowning shit inside It bottles up, eats away, it's a bomb in my mind Can feel it coming through the veins to my fists So I can open my eyes to see the one who compels me You suck this

Grabbing hold, just to feel that I'm still here Opening the way, let me in or I'll rip through Counting all the times that you told me to be Just like a picture in your mind, here's a picture from mine Shut the f**k up

All I have to do is sigh ...

But I'll never deny, Ever Finding Hatred, inside, Burning All the fear, of this flight, crashing I'll never deny, Ever

They thought you made them the man Just once could you learn without regret

You thought that you'd feel this one by one Lost track of the needles into my brain
