

Dropbox, Fall Away

You fall apart and fall away
I know Its hard but youll always be the blame
Ill take the part that you cant take away

You are hollow, the one with no soul
Can I borrow, a little self control
Its hard to swallow, its hard to fill this whole
And I wont follow, so I will let you go

I fall away when I cant take the pain
I fall away and find a better place

Resurrect me and help me find my way
Disconnecting and look into another day
Feel so empty and you are out of reach
So preach to me a sermon you cant teach

I fall away when I cant take the pain
I fall away when nothing feels the same
I fall away and find a better place

The blinding sun told me Im the one
And I knew that this would get me through
So you can stay and watch me fall away

I fall away when I cant take the pain
I fall away when nothing feels the same
I fall away and find a better place
I fall away when I cant take the pain
So you can stay and watch me fall away
