

Drown, Reflection

Too much time - has gone by
Take a look back on that life
I see your eyes - I see myself
And I can't look back on that life

Forced to listen - forced to learn
With the sounds of the lonely
I remember now - it takes me down

Leave me - leave me - now

Dislocated - I walked away
You feel the walls - begin to build
You were the one
I'm sorry but you could've been anyone
I see you now - you show me everything

Forced to listen - forced to learn
To the sounds of being all alone
I remember now - it takes me down

Leave me - leave me - now

I remember now - it takes me down

Leave me - leave me

It never leaves - never
